The Old Reliable.

Geo. Bahn always buys where he can do the best for himself and his customers. He is not confined to any one house. He buys his goods by the piece and case, for cash, and is not compelled to buy in the retail way by the pattern or yard, therefore saves a nice profit to his customers. He has been in Napoleon long enough, nearly a quarter of a century, for people to know that he does not misrepresent his goods, but guarantees them to be just what you pay for. Now is the time to buy goods cheap and secure good bargains, and a time to save money by buying when you have a chance to buy cheap.

Henry County Institute.

RESOLUTIONS.

1st. Resolved, That notwithstanding the scarcity of members, the present session has been both pleasant and profitable, and that we will try to utilize the many good things which have been presented to our minds by Prof. Weaver, Ozias and Commissioner Hancock.

2nd. That our thanks are due to the Board of Education of this place for the use of the school building for our sessions, and to all others who have in any way furnished gratuitous aid in carrying forward this institution in a successful manner.

3rd. That we will ever hold in grateful remembrance those citizens of Napoleon who so kindly furnished us with a gratuitous ride up the classic Maumee, regarding the inner man with those delicacies which they know so well how to prepare.

4th. That we favor a rigid system of county and township school supervision, such as is recommended by our school commissioner in his annual report.

5th. That we earnestly urge upon the teachers of the county the necessity of taking and reading some educational journal.

6th. That we approve of the common sense method of conducting examinations of teachers set forth by Dr. Hancock in his lecture yesterday.

7th. That the proceedings of the Institute, together with these resolutions be presented to each of the county papers for publication.

D. G. DUBBIN, W. T. CHAPMAN.

The Institute was a success; in number it was somewhat short of last year's enrollment, but in profit, enthusiasm and real interest it surpassed last year's meeting.

The instruction was practical and to the point—the audience all the time interested and appreciative. Prof. Ozias is a man who though a stranger at the beginning of the week, made many friends during his stay. Supt. Weaver has worked in these meetings for the past three years and his instructions were always practicable and well received. Dr. Hancock spoke to a good audience Thursday afternoon and touched many important topics in a common sense way. The Dr. is a practical man and a progressive school man, making him a strong worker in his present position. Will Cumback lectured on Wednesday evening and his talk was a treat to his audience. He will be remembered here for many years as an entertaining speaker.

On Thursday the citizens of Napoleon gave a free excursion to the visiting teachers which was highly pleasing to all who were aboard. The trip took in Girty's Island, the canal bank, lunch, songs and jokes.

On Friday, after some regular work, the business hour was called and resulted in the selection of Napoleon as the place and the same time in the month for next year's meeting.

Officers for next year were elected as follows: President, W. W. Weaver; Vice Pres. A. C. Henderson; Sec'y, Johanna Peterson; Executive Committee, F. J. Beck, Alta J. Suydam and F. D. Prentiss.

It is to be regretted that so many teachers in the county allow these meetings to pass by without profiting by them. The southern part of the county was not represented as it should have been, while Hamlet and Holgate sent some of their bright lights to add gravity to the meetings. Deshler was not represented at all. McClure had very few present. Malinta, Elery and Liberty Center were represented by good material, but not enough of it. Ridgeville was over in force and enjoyed the meetings as they are willing to testify. We need more such representative workers as Henderson, Logan, Durbin, Rand, Chapman, Prentiss, Bachele, Poulson, etc., and the ladies will ever be needed to add dignity and tone.

The executive committee hope to be able to interest every teacher and friend of education in the county for next year's session, and they trust that every teacher will cheerfully assist to work up interest and attendance at their next meeting. The teachers and citizens of Napoleon will do their best to make the meeting a success, and will see to it that teachers attending will have a pleasant time. Let everyone work to make the next meeting a success.

MARY E. BARNES, Sec'y.

Friends of the Soldier, Bah!

UNION SOLDIERS DISCHARGED FROM THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

And Their Places Filled By Ex-Confederates and Others.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker has set the Grand Army to camping on his trail because of the recent discharge of eight Union soldiers and appointing in their stead Messrs. Harrison and Barnwell, Ex-Confederates, Brown and Mason, colored, and Messrs. Pagett, Windom, Doyle and Cerepe; while none of the persons named served in the Union army, and possessed no special qualifications over the eight discharged Union soldiers, unless it be their stalwart Republicanism. No charges were made by the Postmaster-general against the discharged men, except that they were Democrats. One of the above soldiers, Huff, had the first two fingers on his left hand shot off in battle, for which he draws a pension, and his right hand is crippled from rheumatism contracted in the service. On President Harrison's return a committee of the Grand Army will call upon him and place the facts as stated before him. Bailing to obtain prompt action on his part, the committee will appeal to Congress on the plea that section 3, chapter 287, of the law of 1876—which says, "That when it becomes necessary to reduce the force in any department, the head thereof shall retain those who were honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States, and the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers and sailors"—has been violated.

Out of investigations recently made with 500 people it appears that 62.5 per cent. of those who dream every night dream vividly. The vividness of dreams increase very rapidly with their frequency. It also shows that of those who dream nightly 60.8 per cent. sleep lightly, those dreaming frequently 42.1 of those dreaming seldom 29.3 per cent. As we grow older dreams become less frequent, but sleep lighter, showing that age affects the intensity of sleep more than the frequency of dreams. The vividness of the emotional nature seems to be the causative agent in the production of dream, for the greatest dreaming is done at from 20 to 24 years of age and woman dream more than men. Women who dream sleep an hour longer than those who do not, but in men there is no such relation of sleep to dreaming. This is supposed to be because men are more under duty to break their sleep. Those who dream seldom or sleep deeply are more disposed to work in the morning than the dreamers. Nervousness has much to do with dreaming, for phlegmatic people are deep sleepers and infrequent dreamers. On the whole this makes dreaming quite an ordinary, practical thing instead of possessing the mysterious, supernatural character that some people even yet attach to them.

A Modern Miracle.

Mrs. J. W. Wentworth, of Elkhart, Ind., was long subject to pain in the side, shortness of breath, weakness, pain in the side, slight cough, swelling of the ankles and other symptoms of serious heart disease. She was expected to die at any time. Doctors in New York, Toledo, etc., failed to help her. But two bottles of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the heart cured her three years ago and she has remained well ever since. Heart disease can be cured. Sold by I. Leist.

A Serious Accident.

What might have terminated in a fatal accident occurred to the little daughter of John Diemer, on last Friday afternoon. The little girl in question, in company with two others of about the same age and size, went into the barn of Mr. D., immediately in the rear of the Northwest office, and climbed up into the hay mow, and in playing around on the hay she ran into a hole falling to the floor below, a distance of about 14 feet, alighting on her head and shoulders. She was picked up and it was found that beyond a gash on the back of her head, she received no further injury, but it was a narrow escape from instant death.

Maryland's Exposition.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the great Exposition to open at Baltimore, Monday, September 9th and continue until Saturday, September 14th.

A monster parade, industrial and civic, with 200 floats and 50,000 men in line will be one of the features of the first day. A sham battle, grand concert and massed band concert in which 50 bands will take part, dedication of the post office by the President and Cabinet and Maryland grand ball are on the program for Thursday the 12th.

The bombardment of Fort McHenry is arranged for Friday the 13th. Eight United States Men-of-War, the Maryland Oyster Navy and 500 men will be in the engagement and something realistic can be looked for.

Some of the best stables in the country are entered for the races which take place each day, on the Pimlico Track.

The railroads are making low rates and the B. & O. with its usual liberality announces that excursions will be sold to Baltimore from all stations on its lines east of the Ohio river, for all trains September 7th to 14th inclusive, at one fare for the round trip, valid for return passage until September 21st, inclusive. Peculiar.

In the combination, proportion, and preparation of its ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures where other preparations entirely fail. Peculiar in its good name at home, which is a tower of strength abroad, peculiar in the phenomenal sales it has attained, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most successful medicine for purifying the blood, giving strength, and creating an appetite.

WADE HAMPTON.

HE TALKS EARNESTLY ON THE SOUTH.

Federal Control of Congressional Elections Would be Vicious.

Desperate Attempt of Republicans to Break the Solid South.

The Protection Sentiment Not Growing.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—A special to the Pittsburgh Post says: Senator Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, is in the city. He was asked his opinion about a subject which is certain to be an important one in the next congress, for there has not for a long time been any doubt that President Harrison is going to recommend, and the Republican majority in both houses endeavor to enact, legislation looking to government control of congressional elections in the south. Senator Hampton said the Republicans can do nothing in a constitutional manner.

"I think," he continued, "they will attempt to provide for federal supervisors and place elections under federal control. This would be unconstitutional and vicious. I don't think they can succeed in this, and I do not see that there is anything else that they can do. There are Republican senators who would oppose any measures oppressive to the South. Those who have investments there would oppose such a policy. The Democratic party will stand together on the defensive. In the house they will resist any attempt on the part of Republicans to unseat Democrats merely to seat Republicans and strengthen their majority."

Of the Republican effort to break the solid South Senator Hampton said: "I have no doubt the Republicans are in earnest. At present they are directing their attention chiefly to Virginia, where they will certainly be snowed under. They have no chance of carrying Virginia this fall, nor can they hope for better success in any other Southern State. They are trying to win by introducing economic questions in the South, but as long as matters of local self government demand our attention our people can not be divided on that issue."

"Whether a man is a protectionist or tariff reformer, the safety and welfare of his home is paramount to both. We will always stand together against negro domination. I do not think that there is a growing protective sentiment in the south. The tendency is more likely to be the other way, especially in the mining and manufacturing districts, where we can produce iron and coal much cheaper than can be produced elsewhere in the country."

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balm does it, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

A COLORED CONVENTION.

A Call Urging Colored Voters to Meet in Toledo, Sept. 10 and 11.—It Denounces Forakerism and Makes a Stand for Political Independence.

TOLEDO, Aug. 23.—The following call has just been issued for a state convention of colored voters of Ohio to be held in this city on Sept. 10 and 11. It declares against Forakerism and makes a bold stand for independence. The call has created considerable excitement among local politicians and the outcome is looked forward to with much interest by Democrats and with great apprehension by Republicans. The latter fear that this, taken with the Walcott bolt, may mean a wholesale revolt. Many colored men, heretofore staunch Republicans, are loud in their denunciation of the present state administration. They say this convention will be largely attended and prove a political eyeopener. The call is as follows:

We, the undersigned, citizens of the state of Ohio, believe that it is expedient to call a convention of our race to consider the many political grievances that now hinder our political progress and welfare. We see the urgent necessity of such a call and meeting, and therefore urge all lovers of our race to join us in the movement to secure a better and fairer recognition in the distribution of the political patronage of the state. Also to consider the denials of recognition in the townships and municipal government of the state; and flagrant and outrageous discriminations that have been practiced in the last four years in the state government against our race; in the public institutions controlled and managed by the present administration, of which Gov. Foraker is its head.

Again we cite you to the unjust
